Graduation plans reach final stage

Broadway hit staged tonight at 8

Tonight at 8 Mrs. Frances Key's budding thespians will get some experience before an especially invited audience—everyone.

Mrs. Key's Play Production class is presenting "You Can't Take It With You" as a laboratory theatre project. The play was an outstanding comedy hit on Broadway several seasons ago.

A laboratory production is one given with the primary purpose of training for the actors and experimenting with materials and methods.

The play has a cast of 18, and there are 18 persons in the Play Production class. Thus the play was cast from the class without regard to "type casting" or casting actors in parts similar to those they have often played before.

Anyone who wishes to see the play is invited to see the results of the class' work.

New members take over Student Council

The Student Council gavel will switch hands today.

This afternoon the old council will hold its last meeting of the year. Following the regular session, the newly elected members will name their temporary president and secretary.

These officers will hold their positions until the beginning of the '49-'50 school year. At that time the new council will elect all of their permanent officers.

Registration Closes June 11 for summer

June 11 is the last day on which students can register for the summer school session at OU.

This is the word from Registrar Alice C. Smith who says that the registration has reached more than 400 students. She warned latecomers to not wait until the last minute.

Registration for fall classes has been discontinued for the present but will be resumed Sept. 15 for one day.

So far, only half of the present student body has re-registered.

Final pep rally hails athletes

Nearly 500 students swarmed over the hill on the west side of the university for the pre-OU-Creighton baseball game rally Friday.

The pep rally was held to drum up enthusiasm for the second baseball game of the season between the two schools. It also helped the students to become better acquainted with the spring sportsmen. Coaches John Pritchard, tennis; Lloyd Cardwell, track; and John Campbell, golf; were there to share laurels with the ball clubbers.

They introduced their respective team members after giving a summary of the games won and lost.

Led by cheerleaders Bill Fear, Peg Smith, Jane Christensen Johnson and Lloyd Metheny, the students sang the new university fight song, followed by victory cheers.

The university band, under the direction of V. J. Kennedy, played several selections.

Only one thing went wrong—the game was cancelled because of Saturday's day—long drizzle.

Gateway signs '30'

Occupants of room 304, publications office, are being evacuated to the library for some concentrated studying.

The reason for this action? The staffers put their '48-'49 Gateway child to bed for the last time Saturday afternoon.

Wonder if they had the same text, too

Of course, the ex-G.I. in college always has a tough time, but still . . .

A certain now-unhappy individual attended OU for two years before the war. In 1947 he returned to the campus, expecting to be graduated this June.

All went fine until last week. Then he was informed that he was three credit hours short of the required number for commencement.

The disillusioned vet discovered that his trouble was being caused by the first semester of English history. His grade in it last year had been o.k., but—the records showed that he had passed the course once before the war.

Metheny is chosen president pro tem

Not tea for two, but cake for 19 was the theme at the Student Council meeting Friday afternoon. The occasion was the farewell to the old council and the welcome to the new.

Following the preliminaries by retiring President Dan Koukol, the new group elected Lloyd Metheny as their temporary chairman and Sally Step, their temporary secretary. Metheny then took the seat of honor.

The new members also set their temporary meeting date for next year as every Wednesday at 3 p.m.

Following all business, Koukol cut the two cakes, chocolate and angel food, for those present. The cakes were brought by Jackie Smith and June Williams. Dean of Students John W. Lucas was the faculty sponsor.

Blood donors are wanted Friday

Anyone between the ages of 18 and 59 can sign up as a blood donor. In fact, a free snack will be served to every person who donates blood to the Regional Blood Bank Friday.

Thirty teachers and students had made appointments as of Saturday. They are Perry Pollard, Bert Muir, Fred Abboud, Cliff Girompony, Warren Christie, Bill Spellman, Neil Apker, Thomas Beck, Herbert Hansen, Jerry Kluza, Peggy Stine, Jess Bradley, Joan Miller, Don Pflasterer, Shirley Nelson, Pat Wilcox, John "Whitey" Jones, Ernie Flecky, Dick Lane, J. D. Tyson, Guy Oberg, Ray Bohling, Rus Lindeman, Don Flecky, Barbara Wiseman, Phil Wellman, Pat Miles, Edith Hass and Carol Miles.

Students wishing to donate are urged to sign up by Thursday. Those who are under 21 and who are dependents must have their permission notes in the Student Health Office by Wednesday.

All donors are asked to not eat for four hours before their appointments. This is so that the blood given will not separate into half blood and half fat.

Shirley Rice, Student Health Nurse, announced Saturday that rumors of a whole fraternity of donors have reached her ears.

"If it's true," she commented, "we'll have about 60 donors, which is a pretty good record for the school."

Alum picnic June 25 to be 'biggest ever'

Omaha University's alumni will gather in Vennelyst Park in Florence for their annual picnic, June 25 at 4 p.m.

According to co-chairman Kurt Sick, '40, and Robert Turner, '42, it will be the "biggest alum picnic ever held." Almost 500 alumni are expected to attend.

Several features planned for this year's get-together are continuous dancing in the open air court, skits and movies. Some of the movies will be of past Ma-ie Days and "some rare old football games" according to Joan Sorenson, executive secretary of the Alumni Association. A faculty and alum baseball game will also be on tap.

Miss Sorenson stressed the fact that the June graduates are welcome to attend. All members may bring guests if they wish.

Admission to the park is free but refreshments can be bought at a special low price.

In charge of the various committees are Don Pflasterer, '41, sports; John Knudsen, '42, food; Henrietta Kieser, '42, publicity; Joan Sorenson, '47, welcoming committee.

Bookstore to stay open after exams

The bookstore will remain open during the lull between the last final exam and the beginning of summer school.

Bookstore Manager Ben Koenig said books and supplies for summer school will go on sale beginning June 7, a week ahead of the official opening of the summer session. Eighty-six summer school books, a partial list, have already gone on sale.

Commencement speaker . . . Dr. Paul Douglass, former representative and senator from Vermont, and member of the bar.

"Saints in History" is commencement topic

"Saints Live in History" will be the topic of the speech given by Dr. Paul F. Douglass, guest speaker at the commencement ceremonies, June 6.

Dr. Douglass, who is president of the American University in Washington, D.C., is a member of the Bar of the State of Vermont, the District of Columbia and the U.S. Supreme Court. He is president of the Association of Urban Universities and of the Washington chapter of the Society for the Advancement of Management.

An author of 13 books on legal and economic subjects, Dr. Douglass is a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Federal Communications Commission. In 1948, he was decorated with the order of the Ascending Star by the Republic of China and the Liberation Cross by the King of Norway.

Regents opposed to Federal school aid

The much-discussed question of Federal aid to education received no encouragement from the Board of Regents last Thursday.

Board members stood against increasing Federal spending by aiding college students. But they accepted President Bail's suggestion that the university be represented at the Federal scholarship meeting in Washington next week. Finance Secretary Charles Hoff will be the representative.

Appointment was made of J. Lee Westrate as assistant professor of political science. He is now working for a Ph. D. degree at the university of Chicago. The appointment will be effective September 1.

Color film features Ma-ie Day program

Would you like to see OU's greatest Ma-ie Day celebration again?

Color movies of the festivities of May 13 will be shown at 2 and 4 tomorrow afternoon in room 438. All students are invited to the free program.

The forty-minute show of this year's activities includes shots of the OU-Creighton basketball game, movies taken of the football team's tour through the Rocky Mountains following the Greeley football game and miscellaneous pictures taken around school.

The pictures were taken by Dick Orr, Gateway photographer. They are on 8-mm film.

Activities to be held on campus

For the first time in Omaha University's history, all of the commencement activities will be held on the university campus.

Commencement exercises will be conducted on the front steps of the university at 10 on the morning of June 6, Dr. Paul F. Douglass, President of the American University in Washington is the commencement speaker.

A musical prelude by the University Band, directed by Prof. V. J. Kennedy, will open the ceremonies at 9:45. An academic procession will follow, and an honorary Doctor's Degree for achievement as a Navy Chaplain will be awarded to Rear Admiral Stanton W. Salisbury, class of '13.

Baccalaureate here
Baccalaureate services will be held for the class at 4 p.m. Sunday, June 5 in the university auditorium. The Rev. Chilton Powell, dean of Trinity Cathedral, will give the sermon. Music will be provided by the University Choir and Music Department.

A reception for the graduates and their parents is scheduled for 5 in the faculty clubroom, sponsored by the Faculty Women's Club.

An invitation has been issued to all graduates to attend the Alumni Association's first Achievement Day Reunion Dinner set for the evening of June 6th. Highlight of the dinner will be an Achievement Day Address by Admiral Salisbury.

Class of '49 to give $75 Start to Student Union Fund Thursday

A $75 gift to start a Student Union Fund will be presented to the university Thursday by the graduating class of 1949.

The presentation will be made during Senior Class Day ceremonies on the front steps at 10 a.m. Bob O'Hara is in charge of the program.

Tapping for membership in the newly-organized Arrowhead Society, men's honorary leadership organization, is also scheduled for Senior Class Day.

Other events of the day include recognition for high standing in scholarship and other activities, planting of the class tree and a noon luncheon.

A history of the senior class will be given by Morris Borders. Class sponsors R. Wayne Wilson, assistant professor of business administration, and Roderic B. Crane, head of the Economics Department, will be introduced.

Lights that never fail are those of the two-way flashlights. One beam shines down underfoot and the other illuminates the way ahead. Designed with a lantern stand and sturdy handle, they're standard equipment for summer outings, $4.70.

Shirred magic are the beach ensembles by Cole of California. The entire one-piece bathing suit is puckered elasticized shirring which insures a figure-moulding fit.

Grown-ups have 12 traits

Ever wonder if you're "grown up?" In a "modern marriage" seminar at Bowling Green State University of Ohio, Dr. Esther McGinnis, Detroit psychologist, compiled a check list of 12 characteristics of "grown ups." She said grown ups:

1. Control their emotions and endure tensions.
2. Postpone present satisfactions for later and greater satisfactions.
3. Accept the inevitability of life.
4. Accept themselves.
5. Live in the present and not in the past.
6. Avoid exploiting others.
7. Accept violent emotions.
8. Love others and accept love.
9. Realize other persons' feelings.
10. Feel a part of something bigger than themselves.
11. Appreciate love, beauty and creativeness in human relationships.
12. Let others have the lime-light.

Get a job, you bum!

"If you want to make an outstanding success of college, get a job first. And if you have to work your way through college, so much the better."

That's the advice given to young people by Warren Bruner, lecturer on career determination at Marietta (Ohio) College. Bruner recommends a minimum of one to two years of work before entering college.

"This gives a young person insight into the problems he must face after graduation," he explains. "He then knows why he's getting an education and what he'll do with it. His work experience will be even more valuable if he has picked his future career and fits those experiences into a plan for achieving his objectives."

We make history . . .

"We can look to the future and be proud." These were the concluding words of The Gateway's first editorial this year. And now that the future, 1948-1949, has become the past, we know that Omaha University has earned this pride.

When the year began, we had a new leader, Dr. Milo Bail. His energy and enthusiasm were contagious.

We actually saw Fieldhouse construction start on the hill.

We read in our semi-weekly Gateway of the new courses in Retailing, Physical Education and of the national affiliations of Chi Omega, Delta Sigma Pi, the Independents and the University Players.

This year we celebrated our school's 40th birthday, attended the first Vocation's Day, studied in the new lounge, sang the new pep song and listened to Your University on KOIL.

We saw Homecoming live up to its name and the alumni initiate an annual Lang Syne dance, Achievement Day and a sustaining membership drive.

We cheered, too, as our athletic teams chalked up 66 wins and only 29 losses.

We look to the school year, 1948-1949, and its accomplishments and we are proud.

who works his way through college gets more from his studies, also, because of the greater insight he has into the problems he must face after graduation. He recommends participation in varied extracurricular activities.

Bruner also points out that most employers don't care whether or not a graduate had better than average grades, with a few excep-

'The play's the thing' replaces test worries

Action, drama and comedy will replace wrinkled brows and sorrowful looks in Miss Gertrude Kincaide's French Conversation class June 3.

Starting at 4 in room 385, the students are presenting three one-act plays entitled "Medecin Mystique," "The Mysterious Doctor"; "Cupidon Dentiste," "Cupid the Dentist"; and "Nicette," a play about a pretty girl, instead of taking a final examination in the course.

The plays are all comedies in which the students will give their characterizations in costumes furnished by themselves.

The plots concern a doctor who overcharges a rich woman patient until she becomes wise; a young man who goes to a dentist's office with toothache, and comes out with a receptionist—minus toothache; and a pretty girl who is able to carry her true love after many trials and tribulations.

Seniors must reserve commencement seats

Graduating seniors were asked to secure commencement tickets for reserved seats from the Dean of Students Office before the June 6 ceremony. Each senior is allotted two tickets.

At 12:30 Monday in Room 385, Harold Poff and Joe Baker invited the senior group to the Achievement Day Dinner, June 6 in the auditorium. Reservations must be made in the Alumni Office, tickets are $1.75 a plate.

Pupils have picnic portraying profs

It wasn't done with mirrors, but members of the English faculty saw themselves as others see them last Sunday.

The occasion was the Sigma Tau Delta picnic at Fairmont Park, when members of the honorary English fraternity presented a skit of impersonations of their professors.

Retiring president, Miriam Kvetensky, was in charge of arrangements. The newly elected head of the organization is Charles Foucek. Dr. Ralph Wardle is faculty sponsor.

Softball tournament to close this week

Only three teams are still undefeated in the Intramural Softball Tournament. They are Tech, South and Alpha Sigs.

Four other teams have lost one game but are still in the race. They are Central, Theta, North and Delta Sig.

Benson, Outstate and Phi Sigs are eliminated from the tourney with two losses. Intramurals Director Don Pfisterer hopes that the tournament can be finished this week. Pairings for the week are listed in the men's locker room.

The Intramural Trophy race is still wide open because softball and tennis are still to be counted. The battle for the trophy this year is a closely contested argument with the outcome hinging on the results of the final two events. Central, South and North are the top contenders.

Bridenbaugh, Kostal pace OU moundsman

Bud Bridenbaugh is the workhorse of the Indian nine this season, having appeared in five games and 31 innings. He whiffed 32 batters for an average of a little over a strikeout per inning.

The little right hander was given credit for two wins and was assessed for one loss. That was the opener with Washburn that OU dropped 7-4.

Kostal's record best

Lefty George Kostal came out better in the victory column with a 2-0 record but he pitched in only three games and 13½ innings. He retired nine men via the strikeout route.

Credited with one win each are Lynn Hooton and Joe Spagnola. Hooton appeared in three games and 10½ innings. Spagnola was on the mound in two games and 8½ innings.

Sorenson unlucky

The only Indian twirler to fail to dent the victory column was Paul Sorenson who was assessed for the loss to Morningside. He was on the mound in two games.

The pitching record for all games played:

	Bridenbaugh	Hooton	Spagnola	Kostal	Sorenson
Games	5	3	2	3	2
Innings	31	10½	8½	13½	4½
SO	32	5	6	9	4
Hits off	23	9	7	11	6
Walks	19	6	5	4	3
HP	4	2	1	0	0
WP	0	1	1	2	0
Won	2	1	1	2	0

Net team meets Creighton today

OU's net team will call it a season this afternoon after they clash with Creighton's tennis squad on the West Dodge courts.

Coach George Pritchard's lads will be seeking their second win over the California Street crew and their tenth victory of the season.

In their last outing, the Indians trounced the Bluejays, 6-1. The spotlight today will be on the No. 1 and 2 singles matches.

Pisasale, Berg vie

In the No. 1 singles, the Red and Black's Fred Pisasale will seek to repeat his earlier upset conquest of Creighton's lauded Bill Berg. Freddy outlasted the usually steady Berg in their last meeting to win in three sets.

The No. 2 singles match finds revenge-minded Harold Hlad gunning for Bluejay Tom Burke. Burke, state prep champ last year, squeaked out a narrow 10-8, 8-6 victory over Hlad who was definitely off his game that day.

A victory this afternoon will give the OU boys a 10-2 record.

Their nine wins thus far include single triumphs over Drake, Wichita, Creighton, and double victories over Midland, Morningside, and Doane.

Wray paces Indians

Their losses came at the hands of Iowa State (4-3), long a power in the Big Seven, and Washburn, (6-3), Kansas state champion.

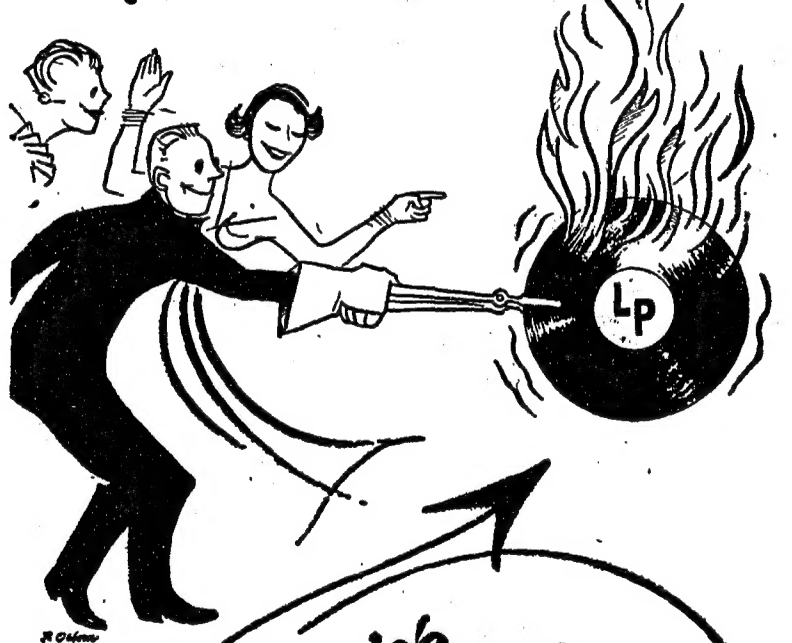

Big Bob Wray, lanky letterman who plays a waiting game and lets the other fellow make the mistake, has compiled the best individual record this year, having dropped only one match in 11 outings.

Registration ends for Intersession courses

Registration for the two Intersession courses, A Teaching of the Language Arts and Health Education Workshop, ended yesterday.

Linksmen to compete in National Intercollegiate tourney June 26

Omaha University's golf team will participate in the National Intercollegiate Championship golf tournament at Ames, Iowa, June 26 through July 2.

Coach Johnny Campbell and four Indian linksmen will leave June 25 and will spend seven days battling such formidable opponents as Oklahoma A & M, Iowa State, Ohio State and the rest of the nation's top college golf performers.

Team medal play competition and qualifying for the NCAA individual championship will begin June 28, after two days of practice over the tough Ames course.

Mainstays make trip

Captain John Duncan, Chester Stefanski, Bill Berner and Ray Nelson will probably make the trip along with Campbell. These four players have been the mainstays of the 1949 golf squad that racked up eleven wins against only one loss.

High spots of the most successful golf season in OU's history were two convincing victories over Creighton, 16-11 and 16½-10½, a 12½-5½ win over Washburn, a 10-8 triumph over a tough Wichita club and conquests of Nebraska B and Morningside.

Stefanski was the Indian medalist for the '49 season. Chet had 771 strokes for a 77.6 average. Berner was a close second with 778 strokes for a 77.8 average.

First '49 loss

After winning 11 straight matches, the Indians came to the end of the line Thursday afternoon as Nebraska B won a 10½-7½ decision over the long Lincoln Hillcrest Country Club.

Stefanski and Husker Bill Rolfsmeier captured medalist honors with 76's.

Berner playing No. 1 dropped a 2½-½ decision to Steve Flansburg. Ray Nelson was defeated by Paul Hyland, 2-1. Flansburg-Hyland won best ball, 2-1.

Stefanski defeated Jim Rich, 3-0, and John Duncan lost to Rolfsmeier, 3-0. The Stefanski-Duncan best ball was good enough for a 2-1 victory.

Hargens, Lindberg tie in 'Mural golf

North High swept the Intramural Golf Tournament by sweeping three out of four places.

Tied for first place with 146 are Bill Hargens of Tech and Robert Lindberg of North. The playoff will consist of 18 holes on the Elmwood course.

Bahnsen tops list of 18 track letterman

Eighteen men earned letters in track this year, Head Coach Lloyd Cardwell announced. They were required to score at least 12 points in meet competition.

Don Bahnsen, half miler, led the pack with 37½ points. Six victories in the 880 accounted for 30 of the points. The others came in the mile relay.

Bernie Anderson moved into the runner-up position with 36½ points in the mile and two mile. Bob Dow piled up 35 in the hurdle events, the broad jump and the javelin to take third place.

The Indian squad won three meets during the season. They finished second once and wound up in third place twice. They also entered men in the Sioux City Relays and the Doane College Relays.

A grand total of 388 17/60 points was massed by the team. Twenty-nine men participated in the scoring.

Yelkin trying to set date of Jay game

Last Saturday night's date under the mazdas against Creighton was literally short-circuited by a recalcitrant weather man. Athletic Director Virg Yelkin is trying to reschedule the game for next Friday or Saturday.

This is the third time that rain has caused the cancellation of a game in Omaha. Only one of these has been replayed. That was the Morningside game on Ma-ie Day.

Baseball mentor Yelkin is very grateful to Commissioner Johnny Rosenblatt for making possible night games in the stadium. Yelkin went on to add that he hopes that next year OU will be able to play some of the more important games in the stadium at night so all the fans get a chance to watch the team.

The curtain ringer of the regularly scheduled season was slated for yesterday afternoon. South Dakota State, earlier a 6-4 victim of the Indians, was to be the guest at Fontenelle.
